Please do not regulate satellite radio in America! XM Radio is a business that provides a service to it's customers just like any other business in America, and this piece of legislation stops XM Radio from giving quality and much needed information to it's subsrcibers. Services like satellite radio, cable tv, and satellite tv should NOT be regulated by the Federal Government. Over the air broadcast radio and television is another issue and certain regulations are needed. Satellite radio, cable tv, and satellite tv, for the most part, do not "broadcast" to the general public. It's a paid for service and people know what they are getting when they order that service. If we go down the road to regulate XM Radio with it's local traffic and weather reports, then why would'nt the Government tell Directv or Dish Network that they could not offer local channels to it's subscribers? Where does it end?? I ask you again, PLEASE do not regulate satellite radio in America!

Thank you!
